

The Two Local Library Systems

There are two local library systems in Snohomish County. "Everett Public Library" and "Sno-Isle Libraries".

Everett Public Library has two branches in the City of Everett specifically. Every other city in the county relies on Sno-Isle Libraries, which has 23 libraries spreads throughout Snohomish County and Island County as their name implies.

With that, here are some reasons to go to the library besides borrowing books

- *Borrow movies and TV shows in physical formats as well as audio CDs
- *Reserve rooms for studying, club meetings, and other uses
- *Internet access
- *Tax help
- *Community resource information
- *Printers for public use
- *Register to vote

And more!

Seriously. If you don't have a library card, get one if you can. It's not like you have to buy it. We all pay for the libraries through taxes anyway! ;)
